Kenny Lyster won't be waiting only for Santa this Christmas

For the past two Christmases the only man in 10-year-old Kenny Lyster's life has been Santa Claus.

This year it will be different. The energetic San Bruno youngster now has a "Big Brother," 26-year-old Michael Lipkin of San Bruno, who has been invited to spend the holiday with Kenny's family.

Kenny and his brother, 12-year-old Joey, heard about the Big Brothers program on television and asked their mother, Yamillet Lyster, if she would sign them up for the program.

Joey was matched with his Big Brother three years ago, Ray Schnibben of Brisbane. Kenny was introduced to his last summer.

Lipkin, a San Bruno chiropractor, learned about the program when a fellow member of the San Bruno Lions Club brought his Little Brother to a meeting.

The easygoing, bearded man said he signed up because "I had the time and I've always wanted a brother. I have two sisters at home."

His first meeting with Kenny was awkward for only a few minutes. The ice was broken when Kenny began jabbering about his parrot and electric train.

Now the two are fast friends. In the past three months, they've gone hiking and camping, played tag, football and frisbee, watched hang gliders by the ocean and gone swimming.

"My friends are jealous, but they've got fathers," Kenny said.

There still are 110 boys in San Mateo County and northern Santa Clara County waiting to be matched with Big Brothers and most of them live north of Burlingame, according to Bonnie Silverman, social worker for Big Brothers of the Peninsula, Inc.

"There are so many divorces and so many working mothers in this area. I hope men who may be interested in volunteering realize how desperately we need them," she said.

Like most of the other people involved in the program, Ms. Silverman learned about Big Brothers through a Big Brother: her own father.

"Dad became a Big Brother before he got married. He and his Little Brother have known each other for over 30 years. It's not formal at all. We naturally include his Little Brother in family gatherings."

Ms. Silverman, 27, is one of three full-time staffers for Big Brothers of the Peninsula whose job is to help interview and match prospective Big and Little Brothers.

Since the service began on the Peninsula in 1961, a total of 1,080 Little Brothers have been matched with Big Brothers.

The national program was begun in 1903 when a Cincinnati businessman, Irwin Westheimer, befriended a fatherless boy and encouraged his friends to do the same for other boys in the area.

Through the years, its purpose has remained to provide "one-on-one" male companionship for boys from father-absent homes. Ms. Silverman said many mothers raising children by themselves realize that they can't or don't feel inclined to participate in the same kinds of activities as men, such as camping, fishing or going to football games.

A recent survey of families of Little Brothers on the Peninsula showed that 88 percent of the mothers were employed full-time.

Mothers who want to learn more about the program are asked to attend an orientation meeting. Afterwards, if they are interested, they fill out an application and set up interviews for themselves and their sons.

Ms. Silverman said no one forces boys to participate in the program.

Those who do wish to be matched with Big Brothers must be 6 to 14 years old.

"We don't accept all boys who apply," Ms. Silverman said, but she noted that the program does accept some boys with problems.

"We've found some boys who've had tendencies of getting into trouble or acting out at school have improved after they've been matched and that others have improved in their schoolwork."

While those that are accepted wait for matches, they are invited to participate in picnics, softball games and parties given by the Peninsula organization.

Men who want to become Big Brothers must be at least 18 years old, although Ms. Silverman said some are in their 50s and 60s. They can be married or single, have other children or be childless.

Participation in the program is strictly voluntary and Big Brothers are not reimbursed for any expenses incurred during outings with their Little Brothers.

Realizing that friendships based on companionship are stronger than those fostered by the giving of gifts, the program's organizers encourage Big Brothers to plan activities that cost little or no money.

Men who volunteer are asked to plan on spending about four hours per week for a minimum period of a year, but Ms. Silverman said the average match on the Peninsula lasts 26½ months.

Like boys who apply, men are screened extensively. Interviews probe their childhoods, families, social relationships and interests.

Each would-be Big Brother is asked to supply three references, one of which must be a supervisor at work. His driver's license also is checked.

When matching Big and Little Brothers, social workers such as Ms. Silverman take into consideration such preferences as interests, age and race.

And if things don't click between the man and the boy, no one is made to feel responsible.

"Sometimes the chemistry is not there. In some cases

MATCHMAKER

Bonnie Silverman, a social worker for Big Brothers of the Peninsula, Inc., helps match boys who want Big Brothers with men who want Little Brothers.

we try to work it out; in others, we terminate the match and try again," Ms. Silverman explained.

One match that ended quickly was between Kenny's younger brother, 8-year-old Matthew, and a Big Brother who later decided he would prefer an older Little Brother.

In most instances, however, the first matches do "take."

Ms. Silverman always looks forward to the moment of introduction.

"It's the warmest feeling," she said. "Everyone is excited — especially the boys, who sometimes wait a couple of years for a Big Brother."

She recalled that one little boy, who literally was counting the minutes before his Big Brother first arrived, said sternly as he opened the door, "You're five minutes late."

Another was so excited that he bounced around the living room and couldn't bear to stay in the same room with his new Big Brother. The boy wound up introducing himself by sitting in the kitchen and drawing a picture for the man.

After the initial introduction, Ms. Silverman usually suggests that the boy show the man his room while she chats with the mother. When it's time to leave, she often finds the two talking a mile a minute.

Ms. Silverman follows up with occasional phone calls to make sure the new relationship is on a steady course. It's obvious that she gains a great deal of satisfaction from the ones that are.

She beamed with pleasure as she enthusiastically described how Mrs. Lyster has taken her sons' Big Brothers under her wing.

"It's one big happy family," she said.

The difficult part of her job, she admitted, is trying to console would-be Little Brothers that they, too, will have Big Brothers someday.

She recalled the dour expression on little Matthew Lyster's face when she first introduced Kenny to his Big Brother.

"I sure wish you came to bring me MY Big Brother," the 8-year-old said.

After he waited several more months, Matthew got his wish two weeks ago when he was introduced to Mark Whitman of Burlingame, a new Big Brother, who specifically asked to be matched with a younger boy.

Ms. Silverman said the two hit it off right away.

"Matthew was on the ceiling, he was so excited," she recalled.

He's one little boy who is thanking Santa Claus early this year.

Garbage rate hike approved over protests

By HEIDI VAN ZANT
Post Staff Writer

The Daly City Scavenger Co. was awarded a 20 percent rate increase Monday amid protests from the public of poor service and warnings from the company that the increase was not enough.

Effective Dec. 1, the rates will jump from $4.32 to $5.18 for the first can and from $2.22 to $2.66 for the second can within Daly City.

Rates for the areas outside of Daly City serviced by the company also will increase 20 percent.

A 25 percent rate increase was requested in August, but after the council reviewed an audit of projected income, expenses and after-tax profit for the next three years, it decided only a 20 percent increase was necessary.

Richard Dwyer, representing the Daly City Scavenger Co., told the council a hefty hike was needed just to keep up with escalating costs.

"We're only making a minimum profit," he noted. "This thing is critical."

He said the company had to take $112,000 from its equipment replacement fund to meet the payroll recently. Another $25,000 had to be borrowed several weeks ago to meet another payroll.

Aladeno Sereni, president of the scavenger firm, said after the meeting that the company is in financial trouble. He said a 20 percent increase is not enough.

"I don't think it's going to take us out of the hole," he said.

The company president defended his right to increase administrative salaries by 25 percent, saying he and his partners have not received a salary boost for three years.

If he were given a 25 percent raise, the company's figures show his annual salary would be $52,830. The five other executives make slightly less.

The projected average annual salary for garbage truck drivers will be $23,236 for this fiscal year and will increase to $25,978 by mid-1982.

Sereni said drivers and helpers recently signed a contract giving them about a 28 percent increase over three years.

Company figures show that if the 25 percent rate increase had been accepted, the after-tax profit for 1979-80 would be $105,110, or 3.77 percent. In the following two years the profit would $156,867 and $82,519, respectively.

Dwyer, the Daly City Scavenger Co.'s financial adviser, said in San Francisco the garbage company is allowed a 5 percent profit and in Oakland the scavenger company has requested an 8.2 percent after-tax profit.

He implored the council to see the light — and award the full 25 percent increase requested.

"We need the money," he said. "We need the money to operate on."

The council unanimously agreed a lesser increase was justified, even though City Manager David Rowe said the audit reports show a 25 percent increase is appropriate.

Zoning change granted

A zoning change was approved Monday by the Daly City Council to allow for the construction of a multi-level office and parking facility at the corner of Hickey and Gellert boulevards, overlooking Interstate-280.

This approval for the new headquarters of Citizens Savings & Loan was granted in spite of protests from Serravista neighbors concerned about a traffic bottleneck in the busy area.

The council paid close attention to the traffic flow into the site, and agreed that a left-turn only lane should be provided into the complex for cars traveling in the westerly direction along Hickey Boulevard.

Because that "stack lane" is within the CALTRANS right-of-way, that agency's approval will be necessary.

Plans call for Citizens to construct a one-story branch office next to Serravista Square.

$1 million gift promised to city

The promise of a $1 million gift to build a performing arts center in Daly City brought gasps of delight Monday from the audience at the City Council meeting.

The donation was pledged by the Fred Gellert Foundation and will be paid in 10 installments of $100,000.

Fred Gellert Jr., who made the offer, productions, rooms for specialized cultural events, display areas for exhibitions and space for the necessary convenience and supporting functions," Gellert said.

The board of directors of the Fred Gellert Foundation stipulated that the city must undertake a "significant effort" to find additional funding to build the facility.

In addition to making the first of the $100,000 contributions, Gellert also announced that the following grants would be made to the city:

Recreation and Parks Department, $5,000; Community Service Center, $1,000; civic ballet, $6,000; Daly City Public Library, $20,000; and senior citizens, $20,000.

At the end of his presentation, Gellert quipped that he would have to conclude his remarks because "I've run out of money."

As he announced the grants, audience members reacted with delight to the news. Senior citizens were especially grateful for the foundation awards.

Fred Gellert, who died last year, created the foundation in 1958. Since 1965, $62,300 has been given to the Daly City Park and Recreation Fund.

"We really wanted to help the city out in every way possible," Gellert told the council. "Fred Gellert had a special regard for Daly City, created by his many years of happy association with the city. He felt that the official city family always had the best interests of its residents uppermost in its mind."

In addition to accepting the Fred Gellert Foundation grants, the city was pleased to learn that the Carl Gellert Foundation has made a $7,000 contribution to senior citizens and to the Parks and Recreation Department.

In the past 14 years, the Carl Gellert Foundation has contributed $125,000 to the city for recreational facilities and equipment.

A retirement dinner for Beverly Forrester and Alvin Schwarzbach, outgoing trustees of the Jefferson Elementary School District, has been postponed because of conflicting dates.

A new date for the dinner, originally scheduled Dec. 6, has not been scheduled.

Blast rips Colma home park, 2 hurt

An explosion apparently blew a man out of his mobile home in unincorporated Colma Sunday night, burned him severely and also burned his next door neighbor, according to the San Mateo County Sheriff's Department.

The man, Roy Wallard, 55, apparently was asleep with his television set on at 10:18 p.m. in his trailer when the explosion occurred without warning, a sheriff's spokesman said.

Lt. Don Bevilacqua, a volunteer fireman with the Colma Fire Department who interviewed Wallard after the accident, said Wallard reported that he was asleep with his TV on and "the next thing he knew he was outside his trailer."

The volunteer fireman said Wallard also told him that he smelled gas from time to time in his trailer and was unable to remember whether he has been smoking before the explosion occurred. "He was in pretty bad shape. He was in shock," Bevilacqua said.

Firemen at the scene reported that the blast blew the sides and roof out of Wallard's trailer, No. 6 at the Meadowbrook Trailer Park, 788 El Camino Real, set fire to the trailer next door, No. 5, and knocked several other trailers off their support blocks.

Wallard was taken to the burn unit of San Francisco General Hospital for treatment of second degree burns over 50 percent of body, where he was listed in stable condition this morning.

The sheriff's spokesman said Alice Mae Sieders, 52, who resided in trailer No. 5, suffered lesser burns and was not taken to the hospital but her trailer was gutted. Bevilacqua said her pet cat was found dead in the rubble.

Firemen from Colma and Daly City and a Broadmoor policeman assisted the county with crowd and traffic control.

lesser increase. Councilman William Schumacher also stipulated that $12,000 a month be set aside by the company for equipment replacement.

The council also learned that by the end of the year, the Daly City Scavenger Co. will have replaced eight of its garbage trucks.

Audit reports prepared by the Main, Hurdman and Cranston accounting firm show that the company's before-tax income was $69,193 for the seven-month period ending July 31.

From 1976 through 1978, the profits were $88,761, $256,158 and $112,781, respectively.

Audit figures also show that in the past three years, $253,187 has been spent on purchasing new equipment.

In projecting forward to the next three years, audit reports show that $450,000 will be set aside for equipment replacement.

One of the few disagreements the scavenger company had with the audit was that the auditors made allowances for only a 15 percent increase in gas and oil prices for each of the next three years.

Company representatives pointed to price index figures showing the increase would be closer to 60 percent annually.

Although the public hearing on the rate increase did not begin until 12:40 a.m. Tuesday, several audience members participated in the discussion.

Conrad Pavallas, noting that "this meeting tonight is more like an endurance contest," questioned why the company was allowed to take money from the equipment replacement fund to meet payroll expenses.

He was told that the council was satisfied the scavenger firm had met the obligation it made to the council three years ago to replace eight trucks, and that taking the money from the fund made good financial sense.

Another Daly City resident, Julius Castellan, objected strenuously to salary increase for company executives.

He said that when fringe benefits and a life insurance policy are figured in to the annual cost, executive salaries will approach $80,000 annually.

An equally strong response came from financial adviser Dwyer, who said the men were not getting the money for free and that they worked hard for their earnings.

One resident objected to the proposed 25 percent increase on the grounds that throughout the garbage company's presentation, no mention was made of improving service.

He complained that garbage workers strew garbage behind them as they go up and down Daly City streets.

Councilman James Tucker said he did not know about wayward garbage, but his complaint was that garbage workers have the attitude that they are doing residents a favor by picking up their garbage.

"There's a complete lack of human relations," he said.

The Nutcracker is coming to Daly City. Here is a program that everyone can enjoy. Its music has been called "a melodious score, brilliantly orchestrated" and "a masterpiece filled with elegant and sumptuous scores." After creating the ballet the composer, Tchaikovsky, used it again for his Opus 71A, which has been called the Nutcracker Suite ever since.

The dancing brings fairies to the stage in a child's dream of Christmas. It has been called "the dancing of the human soul" with convulsions of love, hate, joy and fear. Its composer is known to some critics of the dance as the unique master of rhythms and of dynamics. Give Tchaikovsky one or two large figures, give him a stirring situation, and then hark to the man as his dramatic impulse begins to play.

For the Nutcracker Tchaikovsky took a simple fairy, the nutcracker and the Mouse King by E.T.A. Hoffman and worked them into a marriage of music, dance and fantasy that has become a world-wide feature of the Christmas celebration. The story is simple. Little Clara is given a strange wooden nutcracker. At midnight during the Christmas season she creeps downstairs to find the drawing room invaded by mice and the nutcracker engaged in deadly combat with the mouse king. With courage Clara saves the nutcracker's life, only to see him change into a handsome prince.

tory school will present a program of holiday music for the final 1979 meeting of the Loyola Guild.

Mrs. Eileen Murphy reports that the December meeting will be held Friday in the University Lounge on the campus of the University of San Francisco.

Peter M. Devine will direct the students during the musical program.

Following the entertainment the meeting will conclude with a Christmas tea honoring all past presidents of the guild.

TWO BIG events are upcoming for the members of St. Stephen's parish. Mrs. Gerald Kirtley, publicity chairwoman, has announced that there will be a preview party and Tree and Toy Raffle in December in Denworth Hall, beginning at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Frank Glynn is in charge of reservations. Tickets are available for $2 per adult and $1 per child.

The following day, Sunday, the guild will sponsor the Feast of St. Stephen Faire, beginning at 4 p.m. in the Donworth Hall.

No-host cocktails will be available and complimentary canapés will be served. Tickets to the faire are available from Mrs. Andrew Collins at $7.50 per person.

SATURDAY and Sunday — Dec. 8-9 — the Westlake Catholic Women will offer "Deck the Halls," the parish's annual boutique and cookie-candy sale.

Mrs. Eileen Barsi and Mrs. Bettyann Hinchman are chairwomen of the event, which will be held in the Our Lady of Mercy Parish hall.

In gratitude the nutcracker prince invited Clara to the Kingdom of Sweets, and then they travel through the Land of Snow and across the sea in a gondola. When they arrive, Clara is welcomed by the Sugar Plum Fairy, who calls out candies and sweets to entertain her with.

"The Waltz of the Flowers" and the "Dance of the Mirlitons" and variations on the famous "Pas de deux."

For Clara and for us who watch, the whole thing is a dream come true to brighten the Christmas season with unforgettable music and choreography. Since it appeared in American theaters it has attracted such artists as Maria Tallchief, Margot Fonteyn and Alexandra Danilova.

The Daly City production of The Nutcracker is scheduled at Serramonte High School on December 3 and 4 for senior citizens and on December 7, 8 and 9 for the general public. Tickets to the general performances may be obtained from the studio at 1 Washington Street in Daly City.

The presentation of the Nutcracker in Daly City is a joint venture of the Daly City Civic Ballet Company and the History, Arts and Science Commission of the City of Daly City. Diane Roberts of the Civic Ballet Company is the director of the Nutcracker. She comes to her assignment with a long list of successful productions behind her. Before coming to Daly City she danced on the New York stage and in other parts of the United States.

Surely the people of Northern San Mateo County can be proud of the increase in art appreciation that is evidenced in the Daly City area. Plans include a Daly City Festival of the Arts in the spring of 1980, featuring a concert in the Cow Palace with children from the schools in the Elementary School District.

The arts are alive in Daly City, but they need the help of the public.

The strike still leaving its mark

By ROBIN MOELLER
Serramonte High School

Serramonte still hasn't settled down to a organized state due to the upheaval of the strike.

This was illustrated Nov. 20 when all of the school's students were required to line up outside the office windows in order to get their name checked off, verifying their presence at school.

During second period that day, freshmen and juniors registered at the office windows, and sophomores and seniors were registered during third period.

At the window each student had his name checked off and was handed pamphlets on the district's rules and policies, prescribed in the California State Education Code.

As of Nov. 21, it still had not been announced as to what grading procedure would be adopted. There had been talk of not issuing semester grades — which could conflict with some graduating seniors' college plans.

There was a senior class meeting during third period Nov. 21. One of the first things discussed was the yearbook. It seems that the yearbook staff is $4,000 in debt. Largely responsible is the color prints in a previous edition. The company that prints the book isn't anxious to publish more books until it receives some of the money.

Because of the strike, many due dates haven't been met. The only way they can get out a yearbook now is to charge $15 a book. Those who have already paid for a yearbook will have to pay an extra $5 if they still wish to purchase a yearbook.

The yearbook staff says this year's yearbook will be the last yearbook at Serramonte.

If more people buy yearbooks, the price will go down and the quality will go up. As of right now, the yearbook is going to be considerably short.

concentrate on senior pictures. The yearbook staff is going to put the yearbooks on sale again. The more who buy this edition, which is likely to be Serramonte's last, the lower the price will be and the better the quality.

The yearbook staff says they are just trying

On Nov. 15, Serramonte had its first assembly. The assembly featured the Navy Band.

This year's Serramonte-Crown has done a good job in publishing the school paper even through the confusion of the strike.

This year's Crown staff are: Genny Hom, to break even, not out for a profit. If the book ends up costing less to produce the money will come back as a refund to the buyers.

The senior meeting last Wednesday also discussed the prom. They are urging more seniors to participate in fund raisers — especially since the seniors might have to put on the prom without the juniors, who reportedly are lacking in funds.

The senior officers brought up the suggestion of having the prom at the Hyatt.

At the meeting, a Disneyland trip was brought up. Ms. Perez suggested the trip to be planned for a Friday, rather than the weekend, when it would be more crowded.

One day every other week was suggested to be put aside for the purpose of making Senior posters, to win the spirit trophy.

There are Executive Board meetings every week, usually on Tuesdays.

Mr. Morosi, the advisor, is urging all members to attend, and proposed a money fine for those who don't show up with a valid excuse.

At last week's Executive Board Meeting a member of the PTSA (Parent Teacher Student Association) announced that it is once again trying to initiate a Pig Kissing Contest.

They say they have found a pig last time, however, the Department of Health said it was unsanitary and therefore banned it. It remains to be seen.

Student body cards and yearbook pictures for all freshmen and for those students who didn't have their pictures taken last spring were taken Nov. 20 during the P.E. classes. Pictures were free, unless you wanted to purchase them for yourself. Senior pictures were taken this week.

The CSF (California Scholarship Federation) Club had a meeting Nov. 21, in which it elected officials. Leslie McNeil is president; Genny Hom, vice president; Robin Moeller, secretary; Alex Yee, treasurer. The CSF club together with the Junior Statesmen Club is going to sell candy cane for 15 cents until Christmas vacation.

Junior State had a convention at the Jack Tar Hotel in San Francisco Nov. 10 and Nov. 11.

Four students from Serramonte attended the convention.

It's clowder and exaltation and gam

By DR. DAVID R. BARNETT

The English language has an abundance of names to describe groups of things, particularly pairs or aggregations of animals.

Some of us who like the language to be precise and who tire of hearing a group referred to as "a bunch of" can enjoy these names for collections of animals — they're precise and sometimes even poetic.

For example: a clowder of cats; exaltation of larks; gam of whales; leap of leopards; mob of kangaroos; mule of hounds; grist of bees; cry of hounds; down of hares; clutch of chicks; charm of goldfinches; cast of hawks; knot of toads; kindle of kittens — there are many more.

Remember, the next time your neighbor's cats drop in on you they're not "a bunch of" they're "a clowder of."

Most of us know that the cheetah is the undisputed speed-champion of the animal world — he's been clocked on a straight run at 70 miles an hour.

That's 10 miles an hour faster than his closest competitor, the pronghorn antelope who scurries along at a respectable 60 miles an hour. The fastest domestic animal is the quarterhorse, whose speed-bursts sometimes reach 48 miles an hour. Even your house cat, if sufficiently aroused, can race across your backyard at 30 miles an hour — providing it's long enough and the gate's open.

What animal lives the longest? I'm sure most of us know the answer: the elephant. The Asian species have been known to survive over 70 years.

ENERGY SAVER

Use of energy-saving air conditioner "economizer packages" has cut electricity costs at Daly City's Serramonte Shopping Center by more than $25,000 a year, reports Jim Sargen, left, shopping center general manager. He is shown here with Carolyn Thousand of Energy Control Systems, Inc., designers of the conditioner package, and Al McCarty, PG&E. The system draws fresh air from outdoors during cool hours to reduce indoor temperatures. The technique reduces the need for electric compressor air conditioning, saves energy and cuts utility bills.

Bureau seeking money

Christmas Bureau Center in San Mateo County now is ready to accept donations of money, canned goods and new toys to help give needy families holiday celebration.

Christmas Bureau is a seasonal project coordinated by the Volunteer Bureau/Voluntary Action Center of San Mateo County.

Christmas Bureau has been operating for 22 years and last year provided holiday food to 2,532 low-income household, and new toys for 4,000 children.

Because of rising prices, Christmas Bureau especially needs gifts of money this year to purchase food and toys.

Individual donors or organizations may sponsor a specific family and learn their special food and gift needs; sponsors and recipients will not meet.

To send donations or for more information, contact Volunteer Bureau, 119 Primrose Road, Burlingame 94010, phone 342-0801.

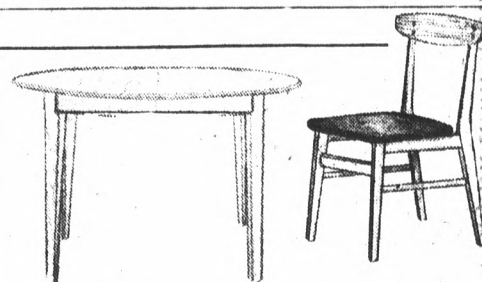

Local Christmas Bureau Center are located in the East Palo Alto Christmas House, and the cities of Half Moon Bay, Pacifica, Redwood City, San Mateo and South San Francisco.

Holiday gift-giving books to be reviewed

Mini-reviews of books for holiday giving will be presented by Lawrence Charters, assistant manager of B. Dalton's Book Store, Serramonte Shopping Center, for The Friends of the Daly City Library and their guests Dec. 6, 10 a.m., in the community room, Serramonte Library, 40 Wembley Drive.

The Friends' president, Denise Schwarzbach, invites the public to attend free of charge.

Charters, who will have on hand a large variety of books to discuss, is a Daly City resident who was born in Walla Walla, Wash., and graduated from Washington State University in 1974 with a degree in history.

He came to B. Dalton in 1978, after having been an employee of Washington State University Library 1971-77.

Giving book reviews is no new experience to Charters. His own reading interests are history and to read and write science fiction, and his hobbies, computer science and historical simulation.

A get-acquainted coffee hour, hosted by Hospitality Chairman Alice Barichievich, Assistant Winona Pepin and committee members, will precede the program.

Book Review Chairman Kathryn Jovick, will accept at the review reservations to the no-host luncheon honoring Charters which will follow the event.

The luncheon will be at the Bunker Restaurant, Cypress Hills Golf Course, Hillside Boulevard, Colma.

Irish-Palestinian Society is formed

The inaugural meeting of the Irish Palestinian Society was held recently and a board of directors was elected.

A.K. Jadallah, M.D., of Belmont, reported the purpose of the society is to promote a better understanding among American people of the issues underlying the struggle of the Palestinian and Irish peoples for self-determination in their respective homelands.

SANTA MAKES PLANS

Members of the Operation Santa Santa Claus Committee meet with Santa to make plans for this year's toy drive. According to Chairman, Ralph Hall, the Santa Program has distributed food and toys to needy Daly City families for three decades. However, this year's drive will be limited to distribution of new toys to youngsters. Cash donations to "Operation Santa Claus" for purchase of toys may

'The Knack' at Skyline

"The Knack," a bedroom comedy about the adventures of three fellows in relation to one girl, will be presented by Skyline College Nov. 29-Dec. 1 and Dec. 6-8, in the Studio Theater at 8 p.m.

Tickets are $2 for the general public and $1 for students and seniors.

Al Melodia, drama instructor at Skyline, will direct Ann Jellicone's comedy.

Christmas Carol returns for a fourth season

The American Conservatory Theater's festive and popular production of Charles Dickens' classic "A Christmas Carol," adapted by director Laird Williamson and Dennis Powers, returns to the Geary Theater repertory for the fourth consecutive season at 8 p.m. Dec. 3.

Two low-priced preview performances precede the official opening at 8 p.m., Nov. 28 and 2:30 p.m. Dec. 1. Dickens hoped, when he wrote his "Christmas ghost story" in 1843, that the callous indifference of the English industrial age which condoned child labor and promoted mass poverty could be affected and cured by the publication of "A Christmas Carol."

The author wanted to affect his fellow human beings and cause a profound shift in the individual human spirit that would bring about widespread social change within Dickens' own time.

Ebenezer Scrooge was Dickens' symbol of the blind social vision of the era, and A.C.T.'s production of "A Christmas Carol" focuses on Scrooge and his conversion to an enlightened and loving human being.

The author also stressed that Scrooge's greatest flaw was not merely greed, but also his particular narrow view of the world.

Through the conversion of Scrooge, Dickens advanced and strengthened his belief in man's ability to change his lot in society by creating a genuine feeling of good will toward all and for all in his universal paean to Christmas.

William Paterson and Sydney Walker again alternate in the role of Ebenezer Scrooge throughout the run of "A Christmas Carol."

New in major roles for this year's production of the play are Robert Westenberg as the Ghost of Christmas Past and Daniel Kern as Young Scrooge.

Dolores Y. Mitchell will repeat her portrayal of Mrs. Cratchit. Lawrence Hecht also returns this year to portray Charles Dickens and the Ghost of Christmas Present.

Appearing in other major roles for the first time in this production are Peter Davies (Bob Cratchit), Jeffrey Allen (Fred), Janice Garcia (Belle Cousins), Mark Harelik (Fezziwig) and Scott Rhine (Ghost of Christmas Future). Repeating favorite characters this year in the remaining major roles will be portrayed by 14 members of A.C.T.'s Young Conservatory.

A.C.T.'s revival of "A Christmas Carol," which premiered in 1976 under the sponsorship of the Standard Oil Company of California, features scenery by Robert Blackman, costumes by Robert Morgan, lighting by F. Mitchell Dana revived for the repertory by Dirk Epperson, music by Lee Hoiby, and dances by Angene Feves.

"A Christmas Carol" will continue in repertory through Dec. 26.

Tickets for all performances of "A Christmas Carol" and the four other plays being presented in the current repertory during December ("The Little Foxes," "Buried Child," "Romeo and Juliet" and "Hay Fever") can be obtained from the ACT Geary Theater box office and all major agencies. Tickets can be charged to Master Charge or Visa by calling 673-6440.

Four DR residents pass GED examination

Four Daly City residents in October passed the General Educational Development Test, a five-part exam measuring an individual's level of general educational development in comparison to high school students.

Those who complete the tests with scores at the 12th grade level receive an official report which in most cases is accepted by employers, the armed services and educational institutions in lieu of a high school diploma.

Daly City residents passing the test were Kathie Munoz, Norbert Pacheco Jr., Max Parliament and Michael Pearson.

Rotary's Flea Market

The Rotary Club of Daly City will hold a Flea Market Rummage Sale at the Westlake Shopping Center Dec. 8-9.

All proceeds from the rummage sale will go to the Health, Hunger and Humanity Program sponsored by Rotary International.

This program covers the mass immunization of children of the Third World countries.

Donations of furniture, clothing or household items are welcome. For pick-up information, call Jack Erickson at 952-4117.

Hours for the Rummage Sale are Saturday, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., and Sunday, noon to 5 p.m.

The Westlake Shopping Center is located at the intersection of John Daly Boulevard and Lake Merced Avenue, Daly City.

Tidepooling by torchlight

Tidepooling by torchlight at the Fitzgerald Marine Reserve at Moss Beach is a featured December activity for members and friends of Coyote Point Museum Association.

Anyone who has visited the reserve by day knows the wealth of marine life found in the tidepools of this protected area.

"A visit after dark enhances the wonder of the habitat which shelters anemones, starfish, hermit and rock crabs as well as sea snails in a welter of sea lettuce, rockweed and kelp," says a museum spokesman.

Reservations are required for the Dec. 22 event. An optional dinner at a Coastside restaurant follows.

There is no fee for CPMA members.

Non-members' fee is $2 per person.

Call Celia Reidler at 573-2595 for details.

Bowling trophies awarded

Tom Curr, publicity director, reports that Ray Thurman (471), Rose Gumina (383) and Tim Thurman (401) were awarded trophies for best scratch scores in the recent family bowling tournament sponsored by Marian Council No. 3773, Knights of Columbus, at Serra Bowl, Colma.

Trophies for best handicap scores were awarded to Raul Luna, Mary Tschirgi, and Allen Wegscheider.

The Good Sport Trophy was presented to Sandy Haug.

In addition, Thurman won possession of the Marian Council Perpetual Trophy, which is awarded annually to the best bowler in the council.

Helen Mori memorial service

The Helen Mori memorial service and dedication of a tree is scheduled Dec. 8 from 4 to 6 p.m. at Camp Ida Smith at Lake Merced.

Services will include a flag ceremony, a Scout's Own and a campfire with songs. Participants are asked to wear warm camp clothes.

Contributions through the Daly City Girl Scout Association should be mailed to Donna Barnes, 99 Westbrook, Daly City 94015.

Mrs. Mori, a 30-year member of the local association, served as a leader, trainer, "camp lady" and senior troop advisor.

Early adult swimming

The Daly City Dolphin's Aquatics Club is sponsoring adult early morning swimming each Tuesday and Thursday morning from 7 to 8:15 at the Westmoor High School Pool.

Adults may swim laps, use the therapy pool and receive instruction if desired. Fee is $1 per visit or purchase of a pool pass which saves 25 percent on 14 swims.

Another recreation swim time reserved exclusively for adults is Wednesday night from 7:30 to 9:30.

Information on these and other swim programs is available by contacting the Recreation Office days at 992-5356 or the pool nights at 992-4190.

'Inland Seas' journey

The Coyote Point Museum Association offers members and friends an opportunity Dec. 8 to view San Francisco Bay from the deck of "Inland Sea," the 85-foot primary research vessel owned and operated by the Marine Ecological Institute of Redwood City.

On the four-hour afternoon voyage of exploration, passengers will trawl for fish, net other kinds of living marine organisms, sample bottom-of-the-bay sediments and analyze water samples to determine their quality.

There is an $8 per person fee for CPMA members; $10 per person for non-members. Reservations are required. Call Celia Reidler at 573-2595 for details.

Sabbath services Friday

Sabbath services will be observed in the Sanctuary of Congregation B'nai Israel, 1575 Annie St., Daly City, Nov. 30 at 8:30 p.m.

The Sabbath (Friday evening) service will be conducted by Rabbi Malcolm Cohen, assisted by Cantor Salo Blumenthal, who will chant the liturgy, accompanied by Richard Altman, organist.

One of the highlights of the evening will be Cohen's sermon, "A Message for Our Day."

At the conclusion of services, an Oneg Shabbat (social hour) will follow hosted by the Temple Sisterhood.

'The Nutcracker' slated

To introduce the Holiday Season with a major event, the Daly City Civic Ballet has scheduled Tchaikovsky's "The Nutcracker" for the first week of December in the auditorium at Serramonte High School.

Under the direction of Diane Roberts, a large company of dancers are preparing dance numbers that have enjoyed enormous popularity throughout the world.

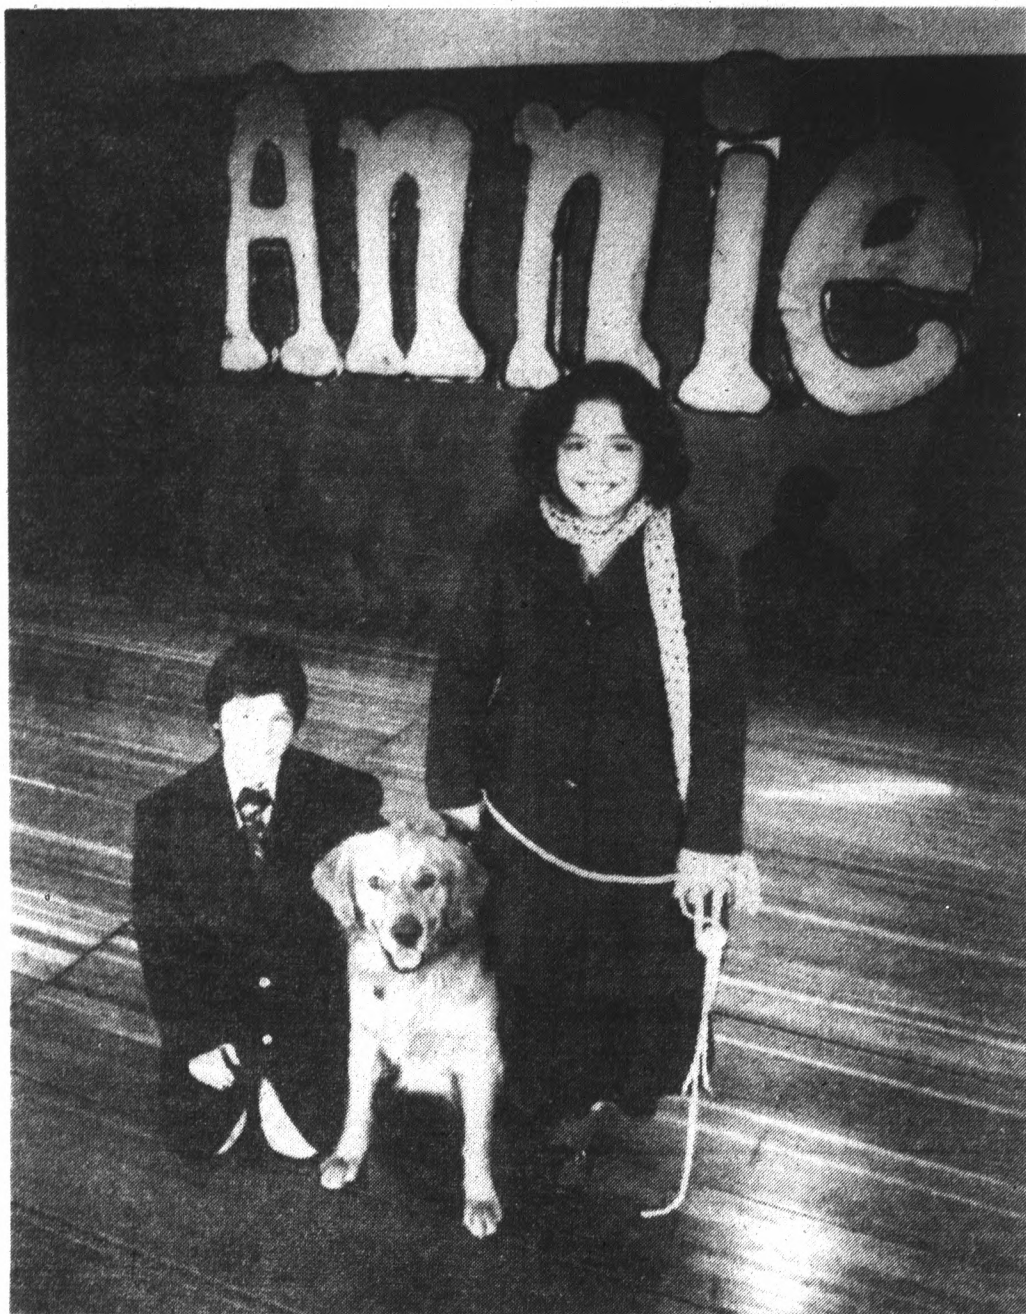

The Ballet Company's production is co-sponsored by the city of Daly City as its Fifth Annual Holiday Festival and by the Fred Gellert Foundation.

Meanwhile, many businessmen and civic leaders have donated funds to make the "Nutcracker" a community wide activity.

Senior citizens can attend matinees on Dec. 3 and 4 at 2 p.m. as guests of Gerson Bakar and Associates. Free tickets may be obtained at 333 Park Plaza Drive, Daly City.

To insure that every senior citizen who desires to do so can attend, the Jefferson Union High School District will send buses to various parts of the Daly City area.

Other productions are scheduled for Dec. 7 and 8 at 7:30 p.m. Still another performance is slated for Dec. 9 at 2 p.m.

IT'S ANNIE

Fourth, fifth and sixth grade students at Garden Village School, Colma, will present the Broadway hit, "Annie," Nov. 29 at 7:30 p.m. in the school's multi-use room. Pictured are Victor Gagliardi as Daddy Warbucks and Regina Miranda as Annie. "Petie" Pagani plays the dog.

Guaranteed Food Savings at Lucky!

Every supermarket seems to claim the lowest prices. But there's only one way to measure real savings... and that's with a lower total at the checkstand. That's why Lucky Discount Supermarkets guarantee you the lowest total on your food bill, or we'll refund you double the difference! Discount pricing means low prices on every item on your shopping list, every day of the week. That adds up to a lower total at the checkstand. And that's the only way to measure real food savings. For guaranteed savings on your weekly food bill — Lucky Has It!

Here's Our Guarantee

After you've made your normal weekly grocery purchases at Lucky, compare with any other supermarket. * If the total for the same or comparable items is less at the other supermarket, we'll refund you double the difference! Simply bring us your shopping list of 25 or more different items (worth at least $20) and your Lucky receipt, along with the prices of the other supermarket. When it comes to your food bill, we guarantee that no other supermarket saves you more than Lucky!

'CLEAN' CITIZENS

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arone, 171 Morton Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Gomer Ordenez of 4299 Callen Blvd., were awarded the Daly City Clean Community Committee "Citizens of the Month" award at the regular November Daly City Clean Community Committee meeting. The award was made by Daly City Councilman Albert Teglia, right. Mr. and Mrs. Arone and Mr. and Mrs. Ordenez were winners of the Serramonte Homeowners Association home beautification contest. The "Citizen of the Month" award is presented to Daly City residents who make a visible effort to make Daly City a clean place to live. Pictured are, front row from left, Mr. and Mrs. Arone, Mr. and Mrs. Gomer Ordenez and Teglia; back row from left, Steve Courter, Daly City Clean Community Committee chairperson, and Mrs. Karen Schwarz, vice chairperson.

Contest Rules

1. Select the winner of each game by placing an "X" in the box on the margin side of the team you think will win. If you predict that the game will end in a tie, place an "X" only in the column headed "Tie" between the two teams. If the game ends in a tie, credit will be given only to contestants who predict the tie.
2. Write the total net yards (rushing and passing) that you think the designated team will make in the box provided. This estimate will be used only in case of ties between two or more contestants.
3. Clip and mail the entry blank to:

Jeff drops a heartbreaker to Bellarmine

Jefferson High's football team had just scored, living a fairy tale, but as the bodies unpled you could see quarterback Richard Rodgers writhing on the ground near the one-yard line.

Ecstasy on the sideline was clouded over. "If he's hurt," one Indian fan muttered, "it's all over."

Rodgers was hurt — re-injuring a knee that proceeded to swell and wobble the rest of the game. And although the injury didn't spell instant doom for the gutsy Indians, the handwriting was on the wall.

West Catholic Athletic League champion Bellarmine wasn't able to write the finish until just 22 seconds remained in the game, when All-CCS fullback Matt Ramirez bulled over from three yards out to give the Bells a 20-13 win in a Central Coast Section Region I playoff game at Burlingame High Saturday.

But at the time Rodgers went down, Jeff had a 13-0 lead, which it held for a half, shocking seasoned onlookers who figured North Peninsula League champion Jeff would be easy pickings for the traditionally powerful Bells.

"Bellarmine will wake up in the second half," said one veteran observer, "score three touchdowns, and that'll be it."

The Bells wound up their offense and also stopped Jeff cold in the second half. But one reason Bellarmine succeeded was that Rodgers was no longer able to run the Jeff veer attack. He was no real threat to run (he is, when healthy, probably the most powerful back in the County) so there wasn't much fakery left in the offense.

Rodgers, the NPL Player of the Year (see story on Page 24), had completed his first seven passes in the first half. In the second half he completed just three of eight, for six yards.

Rodgers is also Jeff's fiercest linebacker, and was held out of defense till the last seconds of the game.

"We've said it all year, Richie has that little extra that really makes this team go," said Indian Coach Lou Sanchez. "We had to cut our game plan way down. He was playing on pure guts. It was the same knee he hurt earlier in the year."

Rodgers had been disabled for two games. Jefferson lost them both.

Rodgers' injury may have made the ultimate difference, but the Indians put on quite a show. Outweighed but not awed, running right into Bellarmine's defensive strength and pricking the Bells from time to time with an effective short passing game.

Bellarmine hurt itself badly with uncharacteristic turnovers.

On Bellarmine's first play from scrimmage, Jeff lineman Mike Maldonado caused a fumble and Sam Smith recovered at the Bell 14. Jeff got a first and goal at the Bell nine, but fumbled the ball back.

Three plays later Jeff nose guard Jamie Jackson stripped the ball from Bell runner Dan Quirk and Smith recovered again, this time at the Bell 27.

After a penalty, Rodgers passed to Jose Nulia for 11 yards. Smith bulled 11 yards to the 10, and went all the way to score on the next carry, doing much of the work on his own after an initial key block by 5-8, 170-pound center Rick Huertas.

Bellarmine returned the ensuing kickoff to its own 47, ran two plays and fumbled again; Jeff defensive end Victor Chiles popped the much larger Ramirez after a 10-yard gain, jarred the ball loose, and Nulia fell on it.

On its next series Bellarmine came out in a shotgun. On the third offensive play Bell quarterback Rich Martig, recently weakened by a mild case of mononucleosis, was intercepted by Jeff defensive back Thaddeus Gill.

Again Jefferson capitalized. Rodgers went back to pass, ducked under a rush and scrambled 28 yards to the Bellarmine 15. Rodgers then passed 14 yards to Nulia near the corner flag.

Smith got the handoff on the next play and fumbled into the end zone; teammate Jay Williams pounced on the ball for the score. Rodgers was hurt on this play.

Finally Bellarmine got rolling. Ramirez' power and the dual pass-run threat of Martig moved the Bells from their own 21 to the Jeff 12 in 11 plays. Then Jeff held. On third down at the six, Jeff's Benji Santiago nalled Ramirez for a loss of one, and Martig's pass for Harold DeMerritt at the goal line on the next play fell short.

On its first drive of the second half, Bellarmine drove hard to the Jeff 16, but Chiles sacked Martig for a loss of 10, and on the next play Gill picked up his second interception.

Late in the third quarter Bellarmine, picking up big yardage on a draw and a screen pass to take advantage of Jefferson's fierce pass rush, drove 75 yards to score. Martig lofted a 21-yard TD pass to Steve Watson, who was five yards open in the corner.

Three plays later Bellarmine's Dave Ambrosini intercepted a Rodgers pass on the sideline and returned it 17 yards to the Jeff 17. Bellarmine's line blew Jefferson out and Ramirez picked up the TD yardage in two carries. The PAT kick hit the upright, and the score was tied 13-13.

A 40-yard halfback pass from Smith to Nulia gave Jeff good field position at the Bellarmine 29. But three plays netted just eight yards, and Sanchez elected to go for the field goal. The 38-yard attempt had the distance, but was wide to the left with 11:57 left in the game.

It was trade-em for the rest of the half, Jeff not moving but hanging in tough on defense, until Bellarmine set itself up for the win with a 44-yard punt that was touched down a half yard from the Jefferson goal line.

Bellarmine held, and took possession with 2:26 to go at Jefferson's 36-yard line. Martig was sacked for a loss of 14 on his first play, but coolly came back on the next to hit DeMerritt for 28 yards up the middle. Jeff was called for an 11-yard facemask penalty on the tackle, putting Bellarmine in business at the 11.

This time the Bells made no mistake. Ramirez carried three times and scored.

"I played four years in high school and four years in college, and I've never been prouder of any group of guys than this," said Sanchez, tears in his eyes. "These guys were playing hurt. They're going both ways and they were playing tired. This is by far the best game they've played. I don't know what would have happened if Richie hadn't been hurt, but I'll tell you, we earned respect today."

"They never gave us anything," said Bellarmine Coach Walt Arnold. "They have a defensive line you wouldn't want to go up against every game. It was surprising to see us down 27-9 on offensive plays at one point. That doesn't happen too often."

"I'd like to say we were flat, but Jefferson just came to play. We had a tough time in the second half, too. In the second half, our backs just ran harder, and didn't fumble."

Bellarmine outgained Jeff 308 yards to 205. Ramirez picked up 110 yards in 18 carries and Martig, after a poor start, wound up with seven completions in 14 attempts for 141 yards.

Rodgers hit on 10 of 15 passes for 77 yards, and Nulia caught eight passes for 111 yards.

Jefferson's defense didn't leave all the tackling to its linebackers. Nose guard Jackson was in on 10 tackles and Chiles on eight. The Indians sacked Martig three times.

Bellarmine will meet St. Francis,

ALMOST A DISASTER

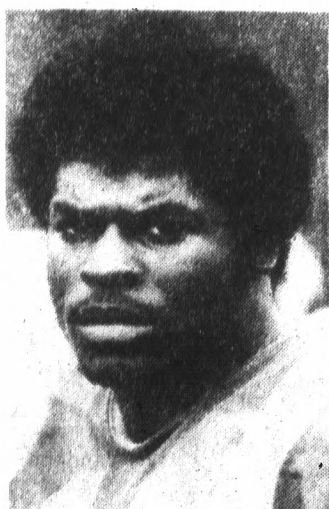

This was a bad news-good news-bad news play for Jefferson High in the first half of Saturday's playoff game against Bellarmine at Burlingame Field. Jeff quarterback Richard Rodgers (11) watched helplessly as a handoff to Sam Smith (33) was fumbled into the end zone. Receiver Jay Williams eventually recovered for a Jeff TD, but Rodgers hurt his knee on the play and was hobbled the rest of the game.

Jeff's Richard Rodgers, unhappy on the bench

Rodgers Player of Year

Jefferson High's Richard Rodgers was named Player of the Year in the North Peninsula League on the all-league football team announced recently.

Tim Oppizzo of Half Moon Bay was named Coach of the Year for the Cougars' 3-2-1 mark (which included wins over NPL champion Jefferson and co-first Serranome).

South San Francisco's Carl Montgomery, who churned out an average 125 yards a game as a running back, was voted the Back of the Year. Mike Caperson of Westmoor was named Lineman of the Year.

In all, the NPL singled out 30 players for first-team recognition.

FIRST TEAM
Offense — Robert Williams, Joe Nobles, Eric Jones (Smt); Tom Orliff, Stuart Ramirez, Mike Caperson (West); Carl Montgomery, Joe Lopiparo, John Solaita (SSF); Sam Smith, Corey

CSM shut down

College of San Mateo wide receiver Perry Parmelee set a state and national Division I reception record Saturday, catching nine passes against Foothill, giving him 77 on the season.

The old mark was 75 set by Chabot's Jim Carter in 1972. So much for the good news in the drizzle and occasional heavy rain Saturday on the hilltop.

The bad news was Foothill dominated both sides of the ball and posted a 20-0 shutout win. CSM trailed just 7-0 at half, but never was really in the game.

The only thing in doubt was whether Parmelee, the Woodside High grad, would get the record.

He got it on a fourth-period, fourth-down pass from sub quarterback Mark Geenan good for four yards.

He caught one more pass later, finishing the season with the 77 catches for 1077 yards and 12 touchdowns.

About the only other bright spot for the Bulldogs was the punting of sophomore Stu Hall, a Carlmont grad. He punted ten times for a fine 42.2 average. For the season he averaged 38.5 a kick.

Bulldog freshman quarterback Kendall Gomez, who had been having such a fine year, couldn't get untracked against the Owls. A combination of the rainy weather and the fierce Owl pass rush — the best CSM had seen all year long — kept Gomez under wraps.

The absence of a running attack hurt. CSM had only five running plays that gained yardage in the game, the longest gain being four yards. CSM lost 51 yards total rushing.

Gomez completed 11 of 25 (with one interception) for 95 yards.

Geenan hit on seven of 12 for 42 yards in his brief relief stint. For the season, Gomez finished with 167 of 325 for 2078 yards and 19 touchdowns.

Skyline cagers lose in final

OROVILLE — Skyline College took too many left hooks Saturday night and dropped a 96-67 basketball decision to host Butte in the title game of the Butte Classic.

Butte's Brian Hook, a 6-4 guard, shot 15-for-18 from the floor on deep corner and wing shots to lead the Roadrunners past Skyline.

The Trojans got 15 points and seven assists from guard Joe Belfry to stay close until the final two minutes of the first half. But Butte, along with a sellout crowd, caught fire and took the game away from Skyline.

Belfry, an all-tournament selection, was forced to leave the game with cramps in his calf.

The Trojans are entered in the De Anza tournament in Cupertino this weekend; their first-round opponent will be Modesto.

SKYLINE 67
Belfry 6 3-7 15, Dunham 4 2-3 10, Raymond 2 0-4 4, Lopp 3 6-9, Stuffs 3 3-4 9, Witherspoon 2 0-4 4, Rivera 5 0-0 10, Shelton 1 0-0 2, Scott 2 0-1 4, Totals 28 11-22 61

BUTTE 96

Halftime score: Butte 45, Skyline 36. Fouled out: none. Total fouls: Butte 22, Skyline 16. All-Tournament MVP: Belfry (Skyline). Apt (Butte), Franklin (Butte), Jones (Butte), Coltroux (Warner).

Keith Hernandez deserved MVP stature alone

Keith Hernandez was ripped off by sentimentality.

As nice a guy as Willie Stargell is, Keith shouldn't have had to share the National League's MVP award with him.

And as venerable and respected as Lou Brock is, can anybody explain to me how he could win the NL's Comeback Player of the Year award over a man (Hernandez) who went from a bad season to lead the majors in hitting, doubles, lead the league in runs scored and come within one hit of leading it in total hits; and who was near the top in every offensive category except home runs?

Don't bother. I can explain it to myself. Stargell is a beautiful man, personally, and, admittedly, an inspiration to his teammates. But face it. During the regular season (which is what the MVP voting is for), Stargell drove in only 82 runs while batting cleanup for one of the most productive lineups in the big leagues.

Had he played a full schedule (instead of semi-platooning), he would have driven in about 95 runs, so even proportionately, he does not come out with expansive figures.

Subtract the 32 home runs he hit from the 82 RBI, and he drove in only 50 men besides himself, which isn't a whole lot on a team that had so many base-runners. Willie also was no threat on the basepaths (Hernandez is not fast, but a good baserunner), and plays just adequate defense, whereas Hernandez is possibly the best defensive first baseman in the majors.

Now Stargell did win the MVP awards for both the playoffs and World Series, and he did deserve those. In a short series, any manager would want Willie Stargell somewhere in the lineup. But the MVP is for the long haul, and Hernandez was far superior to Stargell in that context.

As for Brock, Keith had to buck an aged and retiring genuine superstar and a teammate, to boot, who had, in fact, made a good comeback. What probably cinched it for Lou was being snubbed on his 3,0th hit by Jimmy Carter. The voters had to vindicate that in some way.

Le Pacini

As it turned out, I was both right and wrong about Hernandez in my column of Oct. 17, to wit: "If St. Louis first baseman Keith Hernandez doesn't get the MVP award (which he won't because his team didn't win anything), he sure as hell should be a shoe-in for National League Comeback of the Year."

But I was right about the American League comeback award:

"In the American League, it has to be Minnesota pitcher Jerry Koosman."

And it was! Back to the MVP for a few paragraphs. If I had a vote and was told that I couldn't vote for Hernandez, I would have definitely voted for Dave Winfield of the Padres. The man was in the top five or 10 in every offensive category in the league (and is an outstanding outfielder who can also steal bases) and led the NL in RBI for the worst hitting team in the Western Division.

As I pointed out October 3, "For Winfield to do that, he had to come through almost every time a teammate was in scoring position because, let's face it, he very seldom had men on base to drive home. Also, of course, how many good pitches did Winfield get to hit? Who was batting behind him, scaring the pitcher? Did they pitch around Winfield? They circumnavigated the guy!"

"Ask yourself (1) What would Winfield have done with the bat in the Reds or the Dodgers or the Phillies or Cubs or Pirates or Expos lineups?

(2) Would San Diego have been able to avoid last place or come even close to fourth place without Winfield?

"Voters might say, well, it's true that the Padres would have finished last if it weren't for Winfield, but what's the difference between fifth and last place?

"The answer to that is that it doesn't lie in where San Diego finished in the standings, but in how many players today could make a difference in virtually two places in the standings of their team.

"Probably the problem in MVP voting is that it has never been really defined by baseball as to whether that title should go to the man who was most valuable to his team, or most valuable to the league, i.e., helping to put the strongest representative into the World Series."

Obviously, in giving Hernandez at least a share of the MVP, most voters at least partially broke away from that mold, and I think that that is a good thing.

The Giants are going to have to do something rather spectacular in the free agent market just to keep up with the Dodgers (who have signed pitchers Dave Goltz and Don Stanhouse) and Astros (Nolan Ryan), two of their chief rivals for the western division championship. And then do something even more spectacular to gain ground on them.

A few weeks ago an important item was eliminated by the editor's blue pencil because of space problems. It concerned the move afoot by the San Francisco Baseball Oldtimers Association to name the baseball diamond at West Sunset Playground (West Sunset No. 1) "Al Erle Field," in the name of the legendary man who for half a century booked semi-pro baseball in San Francisco.

Erle was the first president of the Oldtimers, which was formed in 1941 with an original membership of 25. It is now 375 strong, the monthly meetings generally draw between 250-300, and there is a five-year waiting list to get in.

So if any of you out there are interested in supporting "Al Erle Field" for the man who probably had more to do with the popularity of semi-pro baseball in Northern California than anyone, write or call Katherine Colzani, Secretary of the San Francisco Park and Recreation Commission, McLaren Lodge, Golden Gate Park 94117.

The team stats of the 49ers, at last peak, were virtual mirror images. They were second in the National Conference in total offense with 3890 yards, and second from LAST in total defense, giving up 3890 yards!

They were first in the conference in passing yardage with 2509, last in pass defense, with 2319.

They were 10th in the NFC in rushing offense with 1381, and 10th in rushing defense with 1571.

Despite all of their current problems, the Raiders have the best turnover ratio (how many they've turned over compared to how many they've forced opponents to turn over) in the NFL, aside from Washington, the latter stat of which is a hangover from the George Allen days. Allen was always strong on fundamentals.

Sudden thought: The nicest thing about football is that you can be doing other things while you watch it. With all the time between plays, the regular timeouts, the commercial time outs, the time between quarters, halftime, the timeouts at the two-minute warnings, etc., you can read a newspaper, paint a bathroom, clean out the garage... hell, I've written more than one column during 49er games. And if you miss a big play, no worry. You've got instant replay!

TAG-END: Dante Benedetti's (owner New Pisa Restaurant, coach USF baseball team) annual baseball fund-raising banquet is December 5 at the San Francisco Athletic Club (1630 Stockton). No host cocktails will be served from 6:30-7:30, dinner at 8 p.m. It's $15 a ticket for a good cause. If you want a ticket call Benedetti at the New Pisa, or Frank Strazzullo at 589-4413 or 756-3198.

Millbrae slates a week for children's safety

By ARVILLE FINACOM

Child safety has long been a concern in Millbrae. In recent weeks, since home/school bus transportation was eliminated by school budget cut-backs, there has been increased interest in biking and walking as well as public transportation safety instruction for school age children.

School Trustee Bonnie Bertetta, parent of school age children herself, keeps attuned to parent and student safety education needs. After listening this fall to concerns about student safety on the streets and consulting with Superintendent of Schools Dr. Edward Muehlhausen and Millbrae PTA Council President Millie Bishop, Mrs. Bertetta began to plan a "safety experience" for elementary school children in Millbrae, not only those going to the six public schools in the district, but those who attend St. Dunstan's Catholic School as well.

As she said at a recent PTA Council meeting, "Things just fell into place." Millbrae city officials liked the idea. The police were interested. SamTrans officials saw it as a way to reach students effectively about good bus behavior. School principals agreed to hold special all-school assemblies. And a former active PTA member, Mrs. Laurel Lombardi, offered to design and make large posters advertising the event.

The result of all the planning happens next week — Nov. 26-30 — "Safety Week" in Millbrae.

The program schedule is the same at each of the schools; however, day of the week and time of day varies.

Monday, students at Millbrae and Meadows schools participate. Tuesday, those at Spring Valley get the message. Wednesday is St. Dunstan Day. Thursday, students at Green Hills and Taylor schools hear the presentation. Friday, the program is at Lomita Park School.

Since parents and other members of the local community are invited to attend, a call to any of the school offices will give one exact details of time and place.

During the 40-minute program, a representative from SamTrans will show slides stressing safe behavior on a bus.

Millbrae Police Officer Ted Silva who is in charge of juvenile affairs will talk about safety on the streets including safe walking and street crossing practices as well as safe biking rules.

There also will be some emphasis on not talking to strangers nor delaying on the way to and from school.

The Block Parent program sponsored by the Millbrae Council of PTAs also will be reviewed with the students. A sample of the distinctive showcard Block Parent signs seen prominently in many Millbrae front windows will be shown and students told the conditions under which they should ask the assistance of a Block Parent.

Since an important part of the safety week program deals with bike safety, city and school officials are encouraging parents of students who ride bicycles to make sure the vehicles are in good condition and registered properly. A neighborhood opportunity to license bicycles occurs each day during Safety Week.

Schedule of days for bike registration is the same as for the in-school safety presentations. Those who wish to register their bikes should bring them to the school grounds at 3 p.m. along with the $3 California Bicycle License fee.

In case a student can't bring his bike to school, it can still be registered providing he has the following information: make, model, type, color, wheel size.

DEPLOYED
Marine Lance Cpl. Eric L. Johnson, son of Paul B. and Louise Johnson, 944 Schwerin St., Daly City, recently deployed to the Marine Corps Mountain Warfare Training Center, Bridgeport, Calif.

He is a member of Weapons Company, 3rd Battalion, 7th Marines, based at Camp Pendleton, Calif.

During the training deployment, his unit will conduct training in mountaineering skills, land navigation problems and field exercises.

A 1975 graduate of Serramonte High School, Johnson joined the Marine Corps in July 1976.

frame size and serial number.

Perhaps the heaviest safety emphasis, especially for children in the primary grades, will be on selecting and sticking to safe walking routes to and from school, watching out for traffic and crossing intersections carefully.

The question of crossing guards to assist school children at some of the most heavily trafficked intersections in Millbrae has been resolved by an agreement between the City of Millbrae and the Millbrae Elementary School District.

Sufficient crossing guards to staff selected intersections will be hired by the city. The school district administers the program seeing that guards know of any changes in school schedules and informing substitutes if their services are needed.

Guards receive $3.25/hour plus Workers Compensation benefits for roughly ten hours work each week — one hour daily before school in the morning, the other when school lets out in the afternoon.

So far two intersections in the Meadows area have been identified by Millbrae police as ones with heavy enough vehicle and pedestrian traffic to warrant a crossing guard. Turning movements of vehicles also were considered.

According to Superintendent of Schools Muehlhausen, at least one intersection, and possibly two, involving students on their way to classes at Spring Valley School, has been pinpointed as needing adult supervision. The one definitely identified is along Millbrae Avenue, a heavily traveled thoroughfare, especially in morning hours.

Various groups in Millbrae have been approached requesting that their members consider such service to the community. Unfortunately, results have been poor.

And, as long as response remains limited, the positions will remain unfilled. Millbrae Police Chief John Dineen has told both city and school officials that his department has insufficient manpower to place regular duty police officers at the intersections on a regular basis.

There are no special requirements for the job of crossing guard except the obvious one of being able to stay on street duty for the hour assigned. There are no age nor sex restrictions. A college student, a housewife, a retired person are all equally welcome to apply.

Anyone interested in knowing more about the every day crossing guard or the on-call reserve position can call the City Administrator's office at Millbrae City Hall (692-3500).

APPOINTED

Citizens Savings and Loan Association has named Patricia M. Suhay, 26, branch vice president of its newest office, 495 Hickey Blvd. in Daly City. Mrs. Suhay joined Citizens Savings in 1976 as a part-time teller. Before her appointment as branch manager, she had been the operations supervisor at Citizens' Stonestown Shopping Center office. Citizens' new branch office in Daly City is in a temporary modular unit. Plans for a permanent facility are in the preliminary stages.

Diets begin with a single step

The longest journey begins with a single step. At least that's what Confucius says. Let me finish the statement with the observation that the longest journey ends with a single step. That single step on the diet journey is often the most difficult to take. The closer you get to your goal, the more of a mirage it appears to be. There it looms — five pounds away, four pounds away — with the pounds stubbornly clinging in a last defense. Oh, for the earlier days of dieting when they slipped off quickly. Finally, you have two pounds to go, and you're ready to cancel the rest of the trip. Don't you dare! Would you plunk down your luggage two blocks from home, curl up on the curb, and decide to go no farther if you were returning from vacation? The return is never so exciting as the leaving, but isn't it great to be home? The last two pounds are as important as the first two. The first two only proved you could diet; the last two prove you have succeeded.

The closer you come, the more impatient you become. You could lie to yourself — perhaps move your goal two pounds closer rather than remove the two pounds. Who would really know? You would, that's who. And the secret you would harbor about yourself would be the worst of all possible secrets. You would think yourself a quitter.

Let me inveigle your cooperation for those last, plodding steps with this recipe to perk up your diet appetite.

COCONUT CANDY
1/4 fresh pineapple, finely sliced
1 cap coconut extract
2/3 cup non-fat dry milk
2 pkts. artificial sweetener
Mix until it is a thick paste. Drop by teaspoons on a cookie sheet.
Set in freezer for 30 minutes.
There will be a beautiful morning when you trudge wearily onto the scale and zap! The final step of the journey. You're home, safe, sound and slim.

Hearty Pilgrim roast

Good morning, good cooks. As winter approaches and the days grow shorter, you know that pot-roast season has arrived. Sure to warm hearts and satisfy hearty appetites is this Pilgrim Pot-Roast. The whole family will be thankful for this flavor-packed pot-roast that's braised with carrots and onions and served with its spicy cranberry gravy. It's the slow leisurely cooking that makes the meat tender and develops the marvelous flavor.

- PILGRIM POT-ROAST
3 to 4 pounds beef arm pot-roast
2 tablespoons cooking fat, if needed
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
4 whole cloves
1 stick cinnamon
1/2 cup water
2 tablespoons prepared horseradish
6 medium carrots
6 small onions
1/2 cup cranberry sauce (whole berry)
2 tablespoons flour

Brown the roast in its own fat (trimmed from meat) or in cooking fat, if needed, in large frying pan or Dutch oven. Pour off drippings.

Sprinkle meat with the one and one-half teaspoons salt and fourth teaspoon pepper; add the four whole cloves and one stick cinnamon. Combine the half cup water and two tablespoons prepared horseradish and add to meat.

Cover tightly and cook slowly 2 1/2 hours. Turn meat.

Cut six carrots into 2-inch pieces; cut six onions in half lengthwise. Add vegetables to meat and continue cooking, covered, 40 minutes or until meat and vegetables are tender.

Remove meat and vegetables to warm platter.

Blend the half cup cranberry sauce with the two tablespoons flour; combine with cooking liquid and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Reduce heat and cook three minutes.
6 to 8 servings.

HOISTING A COCKPIT

Most office managers who buy new equipment bring the devices into their upper-floor quarters via the freight elevator, but when Airline Training Institute of San Mateo purchased full-sized Boeing 707 cockpit simulators, the elevators at Bay View Federal Savings building were not big enough. Monday, a crane operator solved the problem by hoisting the cockpit "systems panels" up the outer wall and through a window. In San Mateo, it's the oonly way to fly.

COMPLETES TRAINING
Navy Seaman Recruit
Valeriano R. Sia, son of Gualberto A. Sia Jr., 3083
Geneva Ave., Daly City, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego.
During the eight-week training cycle, he studied general military subjects designed to prepare him for further academic and on-the-job training in one of the Navy's 85 basic occupational fields.
Included in his studies were seamanship, close-order drill, Naval history and first aid. Personnel who complete this course of instruction are eligible for three hours of college credit in Physical Education and Hygiene.
He joined the Navy in August 1979.

JET MECHANIC
Airman Rajendra
Naicker, son of Mr. and
Mrs. G. D. Naicker, 200
Canterbury Ave., Daly
City, has graduated from the U.S. Air Force Jet engine mechanics course at Chanute Air Force Base, Illinois.
Graduates of the course earn credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.
Airman Naicker learned how to inspect and repair turbojet and gas turbine engines. He is being assigned to Travis Air Force Base, for duty with a unit of the Military Airlift Command.
The airman is a 1977
graduate of El Camino
High School, South San Francisco.

Aquino, 282 Wyandotte St., Daly City, recently was promoted to Army major while serving as a personnel management officer with the William Beaumont
Army Medical Center in El Paso, Texas.
Guiang's wife, Cecilia, is with him in El Paso.

Condo conversion called 'crap shoot'

The 120 persons crowding into the San Bruno City Council chambers Monday night assumed that the council would choose between two versions of a condominium conversion ordinance.
Instead, the council handed them a double whammy by approving two ordinances containing contradictory clauses as the clock edged toward 3 a.m. Tuesday and a die-hard group of 40 individuals remained.
Councilman Gary Mondfrans, who was the swing vote, explained that what he had in mind was a back-up ordinance, in case one version of the law is successfully challenged in court.
Assistant City Attorney Michael Galligan compared the move to a "crap shoot," saying, "Either you win big or you lose big."
Councilman Thomas Ricci said, "I'm not a gambler. I'd rather take my marble and go home."
City Manager Gerald Minford told the council that he couldn't imagine trying to publish two ordinances with the same numbers and different code sections into effect.

"I would argue that the first one just doesn't exist. There are not going to be two ordinances," he said.
The confusion arose Nov. 13, when council members couldn't decide whether to adopt the condominium conversion ordinance they previously had approved or an amended version that the Planning Commission forwarded to them.
The difference between the two ordinances is a section that, in the original version, allows the conversion of one condominium project of more than 500 units — or a total of 500 multifamily units — in any calendar year, until the city revises the housing element of its general plan.
Galligan estimated that it will take the city six months to revise its housing element.
The council sent the ordinance back for review to the Planning Commission, which previously had approved a version without the section linking conversions to the housing element.

At the suggestion of its newest member, Les Kelting, the Planning Commission rewrote the ordinance to forbid any conversions until the housing element is revised.
(City staffers urged both the council and commission to address the issue of balancing San Bruno's total housing stock in the housing element, rather than the conversion ordinance, so that it would be applicable to all developments in the city.)
At their Nov. 13 meeting, council members argued among themselves about their intention in sending the ordinance back to the Planning Commission.
Early today, Councilman John Barnard called that move "a political setup from start to finish" and challenged Kelting's right to vote on the ordinance, since Kelting was purposefully appointed by the council after the Planning Commission had finished hammering out a conversion ordinance.
Kelting replied that he wouldn't have accepted the appointment if he had been told he couldn't vote on the issue.
It was Mondfrans who brought up the legal implications of approving both versions of the ordinance.
Galligan's initial reaction was that a judge would be "completely flabbergasted" by such a move and might think the council didn't know what it was doing.
He and Minford agreed that when a different version of an ordinance is approved, it automatically supersedes prior versions. If that is the case, the second version of the ordinance (the one forbidding any conversions until the housing element is revised) will remain in effect.
The original version, allowing one large project to convert, was approved on a 3-2 vote over the objections of Councilman Douglas Dawkins and Mayor Richard Griffith.

Change of venue denied in DC homicide trial

Testimony began Tuesday in the homicide trial of Ameenah Rasual after a judge denied a defense bid to postpone the trial and transfer it out of San Mateo County because of a pretrial story in The Times.
A jury of seven women and five men was impaneled late Monday before Superior Court Judge Gerald E. Ragan in Redwood City.
Ms. Rasual, 30, is charged with murder in the 1974 slaying of her husband, Gilbert Gaines, at their Daly City home. He was found shot to death in his bathroom.
She was charged in the Gaines case after her arrest earlier this year in the killing of Litho McDowell in San Francisco. She was convicted of first-degree murder for his death.

Authorities said that evidence gathered in the McDowell investigation prompted the district attorney to charge Ms. Rasual for Gaines' killing.
Ms. Rasual's attorney, Steve Grier of Burlingame, argued Monday for a change of venue because of a pretrial story in The Times last Friday. His motion was denied by Judge Ragan.
Prosecutor Thomas A. Black gave his opening statement and launched the state's case Tuesday.

The amended version of the ordinance also was approved 3-2.
This time, Barnard and Ricci cast the "no" votes.

TODAY'S CONTEST WINNERS

Sandra Benvenuto
Age 12
San Mateo, California

Sandra attends Abbott School in the 7th grade and she enjoys softball, cheerleading and all other sports. She likes to make models. Sandra has one brother, John. She writes:

Christmas means a lot to me. But it mostly is all about Christ being born. Because if you really think deep down if Christ wasn't born we would never know what Christmas was. But it also means giving and receiving. Giving is nice because when a person opens a present, you can see her eyes light up. But to tell you the truth I like receiving the best because, when I open a present, that means someone cares. There're lots more things about Christmas, but that's what it means to me.

"What Christmas Means To Me!"

Craig Quan
Age 11
Foster City, California

Craig attends Bowditch School and is in the sixth grade. He has one sister, Kim. His hobby is building models. John writes:

To me Christmas means a joyous holiday. It means giving and receiving presents. It means selecting a Christmas tree and bringing it home. Then we decorate it with ornaments and a star on top. It is a great holiday. And it is the time of year Santa Claus comes around. Everyone in the world loves Christmas like me.

GOING PLACES

Ladies night slated

It will be ladies night when the Westlake Catholic Men's Club holds "Entertainment Night" at Our Lady of Mercy Church, Dec. 4 at 8 p.m. and featuring comedian Bob Sarlatte.

President Mike Nevin has invited members of the Westlake Catholic Women's Club to enjoy the talents of what he calls "the next Rich Little."

A native of San Francisco, Sarlatte has received rave reviews for appearances at such major San Francisco showrooms as The Great American Music Hall, The Boarding House, The Old Waldorf and Comedy Stores in Los Angeles and San Diego.

A UC-Berkeley graduate, he began his career with a group called Butch Whacks and the Glasspacks which gained some fame as the opening act for Boz Scaggs and the Pointer Sisters.

He went on his own as an impressionist and stand-up comic in 1976.

Critics have called him "a humorous genius" and "the smoothest, most deadly accurate stand-up comedian in Northern California."

There is no charge for the entertainment.

5. Bids shall be sealed and filed with the Clerk of the Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo at the Hall of Justice and Records, Redwood City, California, on or before the 18th day of December, 1979, at 2 p.m. and will be opened in public in the Chambers of said Board of Supervisors at or about 2 p.m. of that day in said Hall of Justice and Records.

6. The Board of Supervisors of the County of San Mateo, State of California, reserves the right to reject any and all bids, alternate bids, or unit prices and or waive any irregularities in any bid received.

7. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of thirty (30) days after the date set for opening thereof.

8. WAGE RATES: Pursuant to Labor Code Sections 1770, et seq., the Director of the Department of Industrial Relations has determined the general prevailing rate of wages in the County of San Mateo for each craft, classification, or type of workman needed to execute the contract. Copies of said rates are on file in the offices of the Board of Supervisors and the Director of General Services and will be made available to any interested party on request.

9. The prevailing rates so determined are based on an 8-hour day, 40-hour week, except as otherwise noted. Existing agreements between the Building Trades and the Construction Industry groups relative to overtime, holidays and other special provisions shall be recognized.

10. It shall be mandatory upon the Contractor and upon any subcontractors under him, to pay not less than the said specific rates to all laborers, workmen or mechanics employed by them in the execution of this contract.

11. A bond will be required for the faithful performance of the contract in amount of not less than One Hundred Percent (100%) of the amount of the bid, and a bond will be required to guarantee the payment of wages for services engaged and all bids contracted for materials used in the performance of the contract in an amount of not less than One Hundred Percent (100%) of the bid.

BOARD OF SUPERVISORS, County of San Mateo, State of California.

Eileen Kenyon White, Clerk of the Board.
